Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

The Centre for Editing Early Canadian Texts (CEECT) was established in 1979-1980 by five members of the Carleton University faculty: Robert G. Laird, Robert L. McDougall, Mary Jane Edwards, S.F. Wise, and J. Jeremy Palin. They were later joined by Michael Gnarowski, James Johnston, John A. Stewart, and D. Roland Thomas. Mary Jane Edwards served as the director and general editor of the project from 1979 to present. CEECT is unique from other literary projects in that it was the first project in Canada dedicated to the preparation of scholarly editions of early English-Canadian prose. The project was governed by a Steering Committee, dissolved in 1982 and established as the Editorial Board that same year. Fourteen academic advisors from across Canada also assisted with the project. CEECT had close relationships with several academic departments on campus, including the English Department and the Canadian Studies department, as well with the Interlibrary Loan section of the MacOdrum Library at Carleton University. In 1981 and 1986, CEECT was awarded a five-year Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC) grants. This funding coupled with that contributed by Carleton University and several Canadian foundations allowed CEECT to publish, from 1985-1997, eleven early Canadian canonical texts, with a twelfth work, Le chien D'or/The Golden Dog, awaiting publication for 2008. The twelve texts selected equally represent male and female authors. In 1983, the first "CEECT Conference on Editorial Principles and Procedures" was held at Carleton University out of which several manuals particular to CEECT's editorial procedures were published. In 1993, a second public workshop was held at Carleton University that featured scholars from Australia.

Series CEECT-6: Centre for Editing Early Canadian Texts books

Date: 1979-1997 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

The CEECT book series consists of the eleven books published by the project and material pertaining to their publication. This series includes twelve sub-series: research (1982-1995); The History of Emily Montague [rpt. 1985] (ca. 1984-1985); Canadian Crusoes, A Tale of the Rice Lake Plains [rpt. 1986] (ca. 1986); A Strange Manuscript found in a Copper Cylinder [rpt. 1986] (ca. 1986); Wacousta or, The Prophecy: A Tale of the Canadas [rpt. 1987] (ca. 1987-1988); Roughing it in the Bush or Life in Canada [rpt. 1988] (ca. 1988); Antoinette de Mirecourt or Secret Marrying and Secret Sorrowing [rpt. 1989] (ca. 1989); The Mephibosheth Stepsure Letters [rpt. 1990] (ca. 1990); St. Ursula's Convent or the Nun of Canada [rpt. 1991] (ca. 1991); Canadian Brothers or the Prophecy Fulfilled [rpt. 1992] (ca. 1990-1992); The Clockmaker, Series One, Two and Three [rpt. 1995] (ca. 1995); The Backwoods of Canada [rpt. 1997] (ca. 1989-1997).

CEECT intended to publish twelve books of early Canadian English prose by ten different authors, half men and half women. Each book required primary and secondary research and had to be collated in order for the editor to restore the text to its original form. Collation is the comparison of several copies of apparently the same edition and typesetting of a text (horizontal collation) and the comparison of different editions and typesetting of a text (vertical collation). CEECT used various methods of collation including oral, visual, textual, and computer-based. The collation process was assisted by the creation of several specialized CP-6 computer programs.
